SOME TIMELY SUGGESTIONS.

A Contributor Calls Attention to a Number of Worthy Subjects.

EDITOR OF THE REPUBLICAN: I have, as a sojourner, for some time enjoyed the beautiful climate of your "sun kissed valley," and in common with all travelers who have visited it, have admired the energy and push that is rapidly developing the boundless resources at the Senator mine, and the mill will be started up in a few days with a large force of men.

The late rains were of untold value to of this favored region. But your new country can boast, not only of a stirring present, but also of a mighty past, the history of which is now little known, which the exigencies of a new country require. I would like to ask if there is a society in the territory for the preservation of historical, ethnological, or archraological remains? Much that should enrich a state collection has been carried from here to Washington. This territory is so rich in many things, scattered kere and the state collection has been carried from here to Washington. This territory is so rich in many things, scattered kere and there, which if col-lected and classified would form a nucleus for a collection that would become a subject of pride, as well as of benefit and instruction to present and future

If there is no such society, would it not be well to form one now, in Pho-nix, the capital of the territory? The treasures of antiquarians, are too often valueless to their decendents, and on the collector's decease are sold to the highest bidder.

I read a long editorial in a Phoenix daily paper recently on "What we should read." Now is this not a little tantalizing? It reminds me of the man
